D/I. USAF. COMMENTS ON HIE-32: EFFECTS OF
OPERATIONS IN KOREA ON COMMUNIST CHINA
(Draft of 1 June 1951)

The draft paper does not present all the significant effects of the Chinese Communist operations in Korea. Moreover, the effects that are noted do not stand out clearly in answering the question posed in the title of the paper. These weaknesses grow out of the terms of reference. The Air Force representative registered reservations in this regard at the preliminary meetings.

It is recommended that the present paper be re-cast so as to present the findings in positive terms, and to use negative statements only as qualifications and only where they are cogent to the given problem.

The statements contained in the enclosure, Tab "A", illustrate the direct form of presentation that is recommended. With expansion, refinement, and perhaps rearrangement, these or similar statements should provide the paper called for by the title.
